HIGH COURT—ORIGINAL SIDE.

NOTIFICATION.

Calcutta, the 18th February, 1888.

It is ordered that in substitution for the Rules passed on the 26th day of January last, the following rules be read and passed as the rules and orders of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, to take effect from the 1st day of March, 1888 :—

1. A list of references of every description which are ripe for hearing and are pending before the Court itself or before any of the officers of the Court, or any other Commissioner appointed to take accounts or make enquiries, shall be published at such times and in such manner as the Judge ordinarily taking motions on the Original Side of the Court may from time to time determine.

2. The printed cause list for each day shall contain a list of the references liable to be heard on that day by the officers before whom such references are pending.
3. Such list of references shall be divided into two parts, the first of such parts to consist of references of an urgent nature or which can be quickly concluded, and to be styled "list of urgent references;" the second part to consist of all other references and to be styled "list of ordinary references."
4. Urgent references shall include the following:—
Accounts in mortgage suits.
Sales by the Registrar.
The settlement of proclamations, of conditions of sale, or of conveyances.
Inquiries under Section 267 of the Civil Procedure Code, or under Section 90 of the Probate and Administration Act.
Inquiries as to what would be proper to be allowed for maintenance or marriage expenses.
Inquiries as to whether proposed terms of settlement would be for the benefit of a minor.
References as to the appointment of guardian, and such other enquiries and references as may be determined by the Court or a Judge.
5. Any Judge sitting on the Original Side may order any particular reference or enquiry to be transferred from either list to the other. Such order need not be made in Court, but may be made upon a representation made by the Registrar or other officer, or Commissioner. It shall not be made except by consent or on notice.
6. No reference shall be placed in the list of references for the day unless it be ripe for hearing.
No ordinary reference shall be deemed ripe for hearing until a Judge or the officer to whom the matter is referred has certified that the points in issue have been ascertained.
7. The Registrar or other officer shall at the commencement of each daily sitting hear applications with regard to pending references, and shall not hear any reference until such applications have been exhausted, but such application shall not ordinarily be made or heard on any day after the hearing of references have been commenced.
8. The officer or Commissioner shall on each day in the first place hear in order the urgent references on his list for the day, and shall then proceed to hear in order the ordinary references on his list for the day.
9. Each reference shall, unless otherwise ordered by a Judge, be taken in its turn, and it shall be continued de die en diem until it be concluded.

No reference on the list of causes for the day shall (without leave of the Court or a Judge) be postponed or adjourned, except under circumstances which would justify the postponement or adjournment of a cause.

10. References not on the list of causes for the day can, at the discretion of the person to whom they have been referred, be postponed or adjourned, but subject to the control or orders of the Judge taking motions on the Original Side.
11. Any Judge sitting on the Original Side may by an order made upon notice in Court or in Chambers postpone or adjourn any reference pending before himself or before any officer or Commissioner.
12. When in the opinion of the Judge taking motions on the Original Side, it is necessary that some or all of the references pending before any officer of the Court or Commissioner should be heard by the Court itself or by some other officer or Commissioner, such Judge may recall such references into Court and any time make such order as may be necessary for the purpose aforesaid, or if the parties should consent to any such change, he may make such order without recalling the reference into Court.
13. The Registrar or other officer taking a reference may at any time pending the reference or on its conclusion apply for the opinion of the Court on any question which may arise in the reference and for such purpose may report specially. Such special reference may be made at the instance of either of the parties or at the instance of the officer himself.
14. In case an officer refuse or decline to make special reference when requested by a party so to do, such party may apply in chambers by a petition or notice to the other parties to the reference for an order requiring the officer to report specially.
The Judge may in his discretion make such order upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as he may think fit.
15. These rules are to be read with and to form part of the general rules of the Original Side.
16. These rules shall come into operation on and from the 1st day of March, 1888.

1. The examination will be conducted either at the college or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph), in Bengal, Assam, and Burmah only.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

2. Candidates not in Government employ who wish to be examined at the college must forward their applications direct to the Principal, those employed in Government offices through the office of their office who will forward the application to the Principal.

All applications must reach the Principal on or before the 5th May, 1888.

The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts not later than May, 1888, and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the college is not convenient. The application must be forwarded by the candidate, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

All applications must be accompanied by a certificate of the Principal, and the following certificates:—
Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies, attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned.

It will rest with the Principal of the College, on a consideration of these certificates, to decide whether the candidate should be registered for the examination or whether his application should be rejected.

Copies of examination papers are not probable except those that are issued for examination. These need not be returned.

Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination, and furnish a fresh fee and certificates.

Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts in the Province or Railway under whom they may be to be employed.

It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the department.

CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF AJMERE- MERWARA.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Abu, the 4th April, 1888.

No. 288-83.—In exercise of the powers conferred by the Punjab Laws Amendment Act, 1875, as extended to the Chief Commissionership of Ajmere and Merwara, under the Scheduled Districts Act, 1874, the Chief Commissioner has, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, made the following rules:—

PART I.—Containing general rules relating to Government and jagir villages.

1. In these rules, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "village" means any khalsa or jagir village, or town not being a municipality or a place for which chaukidars have been appointed under Act XX of 1856; it applies to the six villages mentioned in the margin; and it includes any circle of villages to which a watchman may be appointed under these rules, and any group of houses and the lands appertaining thereto which may, for the purposes of these rules, be formed into a village by special order of the District Magistrate;

(b) "headman" means a lambardar of a khalsa village, or a headman of any of the six villages specified above; it includes a jagirdar; it also includes a deputy, not being a village-watchman or jamadar, who may be appointed by a jagirdar, with the approval of the District Magistrate, to exercise the powers and perform the duties of headman in all or any of the villages in the jagirdar's estate; and

(c) "village-watchman" or "watchman" includes a jamadar.

2. The number of village-watchmen for each village shall be fixed by the District Magistrate, at his discretion, and generally according to the following scale, namely:—

(a) for 100 to 150 houses—one watchman;
(b) when there are more than 150 houses—one watchman to every 150 houses.

3. Ordinarily no village with less than 100 houses will have a watchman, but the District Magistrate may, having regard to the position of any such village and the character of its population, at his discretion appoint a watchman in it, or he may constitute a circle of villages, and to the circle so constituted appoint a watchman.

4. Where the number of village-watchmen in any village is five or more, one of them may be appointed head village-watchman and designated jamadar.

5. (a) The nomination of every village-watchman shall be made by the headman, subject to the sanction of the District Magistrate, who may, for reasons to be recorded, reject the nomination.

(b) There shall be no appeal from the District Magistrate's order.

(c) If the District Magistrate rejects a first nomination by the headman, the headman shall be allowed to make a second, but, in the event of that also being rejected by the District Magistrate, he shall be allowed to make no further nomination.

6. The nomination by the headman shall be made within fifteen days after the occurrence of a vacancy in an existing post of village-watchman, and, in the case of a new appointment, or second nomination, within fifteen days from the receipt by the headman of a written order from the District Magistrate requiring the nomination to be made.

7. If the headman makes default in the nomination, or if after the rejection of his first nomination a second nomination made by him has also been rejected, the District Magistrate shall himself appoint the village-watchman.

8. Every officer in charge of a police-station shall keep a register, in such form as the District Magistrate may prescribe, of the persons for the time being holding the office of village-watchman in the several villages within the local limits of his station.

9. (a) A headman may grant urgent leave to a village-watchman for a period not exceeding ten days.

(b) Applications for all other leave for village-watchmen shall be submitted through the District Superintendent of Police for the orders of the District Magistrate.

(c) When a headman grants leave to a watchman under this rule, he shall give information thereof to the officer in charge of the police-station as soon as possible.

10. A village-watchman shall not withdraw from the duties of his office without the permission of the District Magistrate, or without having given at least one month's notice of his intention to withdraw from such duties.

11. (a) Every village-watchman, other than a jamadar, shall be armed with a spear, and shall wear as uniform a blue chapkan and a belt.

(b) Every jamadar shall be armed with a sword, and shall wear as uniform a red and blue turban, a belt, and a blue chapkan trimmed with red and having red and blue stripes on the left sleeve.

12. Every village-watchman shall keep watch and ward in his village.

13. (a) Every village-watchman shall be deemed the servant of the village for the purposes of duties imposed upon him by these rules, and, as such, shall be bound, subject to the orders of the District Magistrate, to act in all matters connected with these rules in general subordination to the headman.

(b) A village-watchman may, by special order of the District Magistrate or the District Superintendent of Police, be employed temporarily beyond the limits of his village, and, while so employed, may discharge the same functions as when employed within the limits of his village.

14. Every village-watchman is bound to assist the police to the best of his ability in all matters connected with the prevention and detection of crime and the apprehension of offenders.

15. (a) Subject to the other provisions of these rules, every village-watchman shall report in person on the state of his village once a week to the officer in charge of the police-station within the limits of which the village is situate.

(b) Where there are several village-watchmen in a village the report shall be made by one watchman at a time, the duty being taken in rotation.

(c) The District Magistrate may order more or less frequent reports, at such intervals and for so long as he considers proper, from any village in his district.

16. Every headman and village-watchman is bound to comply with the provisions of section

45 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882; and in particular every village-watchman shall—

(a) give immediate information to the officer in charge of the police-station appointed for his village—

(1) of every unnatural, suspicious, or sudden death occurring in the village of which he is watchman;

(2) of any of the following offences occurring in such village (that is to say)—murder, culpable homicide, rape, dacoity, theft, robbery, mischief by fire, house-breaking, counterfeiting coin, causing grievous hurt, riot, harbouring a proclaimed offender, exposure of a child, concealment of birth, administering stupefying drugs, kidnapping, and lurking house-trespass; and

(3) of all attempts and preparation to commit, and abetments of, any of the said offences;

(b) keep the police informed of all disputes which are likely to lead to any riot or serious affray;

(c) arrest all proclaimed offenders, and all persons whom he may find in the act of committing any offence specified in clause (a), sub-clause (2), of this rule and all persons against whom a formal complaint has been made of their having been concerned in any such offence, whether such offence is being or has been committed within his village or beyond it;

(d) to the best of his ability prevent the commission of any offence specified in clause (a), sub-clause (2), of this rule;

(e) observe, and from time to time report to the officer in charge of the police-station appointed for his village, the movement of all bad characters in such village;

(f) report to the officer in charge of such police-station the arrival of suspicious characters in the neighbourhood; and

(g) supply to the best of his ability any local information which a Magistrate or any officer of police may require, and promptly execute all orders issued to him by competent authority.

17. All occurrences reported at a police-station by village watchmen shall be recorded in the station-diaries; but it shall not be considered necessary to enter in such diaries the reports of watchmen who have no communication to make further than that the peace of their villages has been undisturbed since the last report.

18. A headman or village-watchman may of his own authority interpose to prevent any injury attempted to be committed in his view to any public property, moveable or immoveable, or to prevent the removal or injury of any public landmark.

19. For the purpose of arresting any such person as is referred to in clause (c) of rule 16, a village-watchman may pursue the person into the limits of the local jurisdiction of another village-watchman whether subordinate to the same Magistrate as himself, or to the Magistrate of another District.

20. If a person forcibly resists an endeavour to arrest him, a village-watchman or any person whom he may call to his aid may use all means necessary to effect the arrest.

21. A person arrested by a village-watchman shall not be subjected to more restraint than is necessary to prevent his escape, and the watchman shall take him as soon as possible to the police-station appointed for the village.

22. In a village to which no watchman has been appointed under these rules or from which a watchman is absent under rule 9, the functions of village-watchman shall be discharged by the headman of the village, who shall receive such remuneration for his services and collect the same in such manner as the District Magistrate may, with the approval of the Commissioner, determine, after consideration of any representation which the headman may desire to record.

23. A headman discharging the functions of a village-watchman under the last foregoing rule shall have the powers and be subject to the liabilities of a village-watchman under these rules.

24. The monthly pay of a village-watchman shall not be less than four rupees, and the monthly pay of a jamadar shall not be less than seven rupees. The exact rate of pay shall in each case be determined by the District Magistrate; and the payments shall be invariably in cash.

25. The pay of all village-watchmen shall, subject to the control of the District Magistrate, be disbursed by, or under the direct supervision of, the District Superintendent of Police and on regularly prepared monthly pay bills.

26. (a) The pay of every village-watchman, and the cost of his arms and equipment, shall be provided from a cess, to be called the chaukidari cess, and to be levied annually from the village in which the watchman serves.

(b) The District Magistrate shall determine the amount of the chaukidari cess annually recoverable from each village.

(c) The amount shall in the first instance be assessed by the headman, under the general direction of the District Magistrate, on the houses of the village, or on classes of persons inhabiting the village, or on the land-revenue due from the village community, or otherwise as may seem to him expedient, with due regard, as far as may be, to local custom.

(d) The amount assessed shall be payable on dates not later than the dates fixed for the payment of instalments of land-revenue.

(e) The amount assessed shall be collected and paid into the Government treasury by the headman.

27. (a) Before making any order as to the amount of the chaukidari cess to be levied in any village, or as to the mode in which, the persons from whom, or the dates on which that cess is to be levied, the District Magistrate shall give to the headman an opportunity of recording his opinion with respect to all or any of those matters, as the case may be, and shall take into consideration any opinion so recorded.

(b) If the District Magistrate dissents from the opinion of the headman, he shall in his order record his reasons for such dissent.

28. (a) A person dissatisfied with the amount at which he has been assessed may appeal, within thirty days from the date on which he receives notice of the assessment, to the District Magistrate, whose order shall be final.

(b) The appellate order of the District Magistrate shall be communicated to the headman concerned, so that the assessment may, if necessary, be revised.

29. (a) When the assessment has been finally settled, the Magistrate shall sign the list and shall cause one copy of it in Urdu or Hindi to be stuck up in some conspicuous place in the village for which the assessment has been made.

(b) With the list there shall also be stuck up a notification in Urdu or Hindi calling on each person whose name is included in the list to pay the tax, and warning him that, in the event of his failing to do so on or before a specified date, the amount will be recoverable as an arrear of land-revenue.

30. All receipts on account of the chaukidari cess shall be credited to a fund to be called the "chaukidari fund;" and all payments from the fund shall be made on bills passed by the District Superintendent of Police and countersigned by the District Magistrate.

31. All fines inflicted and savings accruing under these rules shall be credited to the chaukidari fund.

32. The assessment of the chaukidari cess shall be revised every third year, but the District Magistrate may, for special reasons, of his own motion or on the application of the villagers, direct its revision after any shorter interval.

33. (a) Whenever an assessment is revised under the last foregoing rule, a revised list, together with such a notification as is mentioned in rule 29, shall be prepared and published in the manner directed in that rule.

(b) All objections to a revised assessment shall be made and dealt with in the manner prescribed in rule 28.

34. The headman shall, on the 1st November, and 1st May in every year, or as soon after as possible, furnish a list of the defaulters in his village to the District Magistrate.

35. All orders of the District Magistrate in regard to the determination of the number of village-watchmen, the rate of their remuneration and the assessment of the chaukidari cess, shall be subject to revision and alteration by the Commissioner.

36. (a) Any person failing to perform any duty appertaining to him as a watchman under any of the foregoing rules shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punishable with fine not exceeding three months' pay or with imprisonment, either simple or rigorous, for a term not exceeding six months, or with both.

(b) A prosecution for an offence under this rule shall not be instituted without the previous sanction of the District Magistrate.

(c) A person convicted under this rule shall also be liable to suspension from office for a period not exceeding six months, or to dismissal, by order of the District Magistrate.

37. Officers in charge of police-stations and headmen are prohibited, under penalty of dismissal from office, from employing village-watchmen on their private concerns, or on any duties unconnected with the police.

38. The District Magistrate may, instead of instituting criminal proceedings, suspend a headman or village-watchman from office during enquiry into alleged misconduct or neglect in the performance of his duties, and may punish him for such misconduct or neglect by dismissal or by suspension from office for a period not exceeding six months.

39. A headman or village-watchman shall not be punished under these rules except either after a criminal prosecution or by order of the District Magistrate.

40. Nothing in these rules shall be construed to prevent any person from being prosecuted under any other law for the time being in force for any offence against these rules, or from being liable under such law to any other or higher penalty or punishment than is provided by these rules for the offence :

Provided that no person shall be punished twice for the same offence.

PART II.—Containing special rules relating to the estates of Istimrardars.

41. The foregoing rules shall be enforced, so far as they may be applicable, and consistent with the following rules, in the estates of istimrardars.

42. (a) An istimrardar may, with the approval of the District Magistrate, appoint a deputy, not being a village-watchman or jamadar, to discharge the functions of headman in all or any of the villages in the istimrardar's estate.

(b) Unless and until the appointment of a deputy is made and approved, the istimrardar shall be directly and personally responsible for the efficient discharge of the functions of headman in all or any of the villages in his estate.

43. The District Magistrate shall, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, determine the number of village-watchmen to be appointed in each istimrardar's estate, and the number shall not be reduced except under the authority of the Commissioner.

44. An istimrardar, or his deputy, shall not employ village-watchmen on his private concerns, or on any duties unconnected with the police.

45. The nomination of village-watchmen, and the power of granting leave to them and of filling casual vacancies among them, shall rest entirely with the istimrardar, but the District Magistrate may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, require an istimrardar to dismiss any watchman.

46. The monthly pay of a village-watchman shall not be less than four rupees and the monthly pay of a jamadar shall not be less than seven rupees. The exact rate of pay shall in each case be fixed by the istimrardar.

47. (a) The District Magistrate shall determine the total amount leviable as chaukidari cess in each istimrardar's estate, and the istimrardar shall regulate and arrange the details of the assessment and collection of the cess within the limits of that amount.

(b) A person dissatisfied with the assessment made upon him by the istimrardar may appeal, within thirty days from the day on which he is informed of the assessment, to the District Magistrate, whose order shall be final.

(c) If the District Magistrate alters the assessment the istimrardar shall be bound to revise it according to the order.

48. (a) When the assessment has been finally settled, the Magistrate shall sign the list and shall cause one copy of it in Urdu or Hindi to be stuck up in some conspicuous place in the village for which the assessment has been made.

(b) With the list there shall also be stuck up a notification in Urdu or Hindi calling on each person whose name is included in the list to pay the tax, and warning him that, in the event of his failing to do so on or before a specified date, the amount will be recoverable as an arrear of land-revenue.

49. All watchmen in the estates of istimrardars shall be paid in cash : provided that in special cases where payment in kind has been customary the Commissioner may sanction its continuance.

50. When an istimrardar or his deputy satisfies the Collector that any sum due as chaukidari cess has fallen due and has not been paid to him, the Collector may, in his discretion, recover it as if it were an arrear of land-revenue.

51. Every istimrardar shall submit to the District Magistrate quarterly an acquittance roll showing that the salaries of his watchmen have been duly disbursed, and, at the end of each year, shall submit an abstract statement showing the following details relating to the past year :—

- (a) the amount of the chaukidari cess leviable in his estate,
- (b) the amount collected,
- (c) the amount spent on the salaries of watchmen,
- (d) the amount spent on uniform and equipments supplied to watchmen, and
- (e) the surplus, if any.

PART III.—General Provisions.

52. Except in respect of the estates of istimrardars, the District Magistrate may delegate to a Sub-Divisional Magistrate all or any of the powers conferred upon the District Magistrate by the foregoing rules ; and the Sub-Divisional Magistrate may then exercise the powers within the limits of his sub-division.

53. Nothing in any of the foregoing rules shall be deemed to impair or modify the responsibilities devolving upon istimrardars, jagirdars, or bhumias, under their respective sanads or the orders of the Chief Commissioner or the Governor-General in Council, as the case may be.
